In 2163, a polluted and overcrowded Earth forces humans to search for a new home. But the exoplanet they target, Exilon 5, is occupied. Having already begun a massive relocation programme, Bill Taggart is sent to monitor the Indigenes, the race that lives there. He is a man on the edge. He believes the Indigenes killed his wife, but he doesn't know why. His surveillance focuses on the Indigene Stephen, who has risked his life to surface during the daytime. Stephen has every reason to despise the humans and their attempts to colonise his planet. To protect his species from further harm, he must go against his very nature and become human. But one woman holds a secret that threatens Bill's and Stephen's plans, an untruth that

Two Worlds. Two Species. One Terrifying Secret. Earth is overcrowded and polluted. A new planet, Exilon 5, has been located. But Exilon 5 is already occupied. In 2163, a polluted and overcrowded Earth forces humans to search for a new home. But the exoplanet they target, Exilon 5, is occupied. Having already begun a massive relocation programme, the World Government on Earth sends Bill Taggart to monitor the threat level of the Indigenes, the alien race that lives on Exilon 5. Bill is a man on the edge. He believes the Indigenes killed his wife, but he doesn't know why. Until now. Stephen has every reason to despise the humans and their attempts to colonise his planet. To protect his species from further harm, he must go against his very nature and become human. Laura O'Halloran is losing her daily battle with Seasonal Affective Disorder. Her only chance at recovery is leaving the dark Earth for the sunnier climate of Exilon 5. She hopes her credentials as a World Government employee will secure her a one-way trip, but with the ever increasing relocation demand that is not a guarantee. Her discovery of a deadly secret threatens her life and that of Bill and Stephen. A secret so great it could rip apart both worlds. Becoming Human, part one in the Exilon 5 series, is a dystopian action adventure that you won't want to put down.

Being different is accepted. Being special could get you killed. The Indigene Stephen is forced to leave Earth without Anton, who is captured by the military. On his journey back to Exilon 5, he's haunted by a series of disturbing dreams. Are they a manifestation of his fear for his friend's safety, or a psychological link to Anton? Back on Earth, Bill Taggart focuses on two things: the search for Anton, and deciphering the coded letters from his wife. What he learns forces him to change his focus. He must find a way to warn the Indigenes. The programme to transfer people from Earth to Exilon 5 becomes much more 'selective'. Under orders from Earth's World Government, a clinical biologist studies the imprisoned Anton's genetic code in detail. But when a colleague turns up on the table in her medical facility, her curiosity about the Indigene soon shifts to fear for her own safety. ALTERED REALITY is the mind-bending sequel to BECOMING HUMAN in the Exilon 5 trilogy.

NEW EDITION 2020 First an alien species emerged from the shadows. Then his wife disappeared... Bill Taggart is done following the rules. After losing his wife and last shred of happiness on humanity's new utopia, the jaded investigator focuses on the hostile alien race living there. Sent to observe them before a population transfer from a ravaged Earth, Bill hopes to find a clue to explain his wife's disappearance. But when his study of the non-aggressive natives clashes with official reports, Bill worries there might be more to this relocation. Laura O'Halloran hates to deviate from the rule book. But when she uncovers a sinister government conspiracy involving the aliens and Bill Taggart's wife, she knows she can't stay silent. The truth not only puts the entire transfer plan at risk but the investigator's life, too. As two worlds plunge deeper into chaos, only the truth will stop the government from setting its horrifying plans into motion. Genesis Code is the first novel in this dystopian society thriller. If you enjoy incredible world building, complex characters, and disturbing secrets, then you'll love Eliza Green's intricately woven dystopian series. Buy Genesis Code and travel to a brave new utopia today! This edition contains brand new scenes and a reworking of the content.

Stephen finds himself overwhelmingly attracted to Serena, the new female Indigene who suddenly appeared in District Three. But who is she really, and where did she come from? Meanwhile Anton, taken over by a malevolent personality back on Earth, struggles to hold on to his identity. His alter ego has a personal grudge against Pierre, District Three's only remaining elder, and is out to destroy him. Can the Indigenes save Anton before all trace of him is lost? How can they protect Pierre? On Earth, Laura O'Halloran is adjusting to life after treatment for her Seasonal Affective Disorder while on Exilon 5, but she soon experiences some unexpected side-effects. Deeply worried about her, Bill Taggart is forced to seek help from the most unlikely of people—the World Government. But in trying to save Laura and protect the Indigenes his loyalties are divided, and he begins to question whose side he is really on. CRIMSON DAWN is the exciting conclusion to the Exilon 5 Trilogy.

Dallas Gordon and the Prospector 1 crew race to Mars to stake EPSILON's claim to the Red Planet's unlimited mineral wealth. But they are not alone. Unscrupulous rivals conspire to stop them and secure Mars' wealth for themselves-by any means necessary. The year is 2035. The first human-crewed mission races to Mars to mine Rare Earth Elements - vital components of everything electronic. EPSILON, the world's leading autonomous vehicle maker, will be the first to plant a human--and their corporate--footprint on Martian soil.

EPSILON's crewless missions have established a base on Mars to enable Mission Commander Dallas Gordon and his 5-person crew to mine the untapped lucrative riches waiting there. Back on Earth, Flight Operations Director Ann Waters monitors Prospector 1's progress but discovers the craft is a million miles off course. The cause? Sabotage by an ex-employee-turned-hacker contracted to end both the mission and the crew's lives. Gordon manages to get back on course, only to crash-land on Mars. The team struggles to traverse the rugged Martian terrain to reach Prospector Base before they run out of oxygen. Separated by over 200 million miles, can Ann and Dallas uncover the technological and robotic traps set by the hacker on Mars?

What makes each of us a person? How do our bodies relate to our minds? In this deeply engaging exploration of what it means to be human, Rowan Williams addresses these frequently asked questions with lucid meditations that draw from findings in neuroscience, philosophy, psychology, and literature. Then he presses on to ask, Might faith be necessary to human flourishing? If so, why? And how can a traditional Christian practice—namely, silence—help us advance on the path to human maturity? The book ends with a brief but profound meditation on Christ's ascension, inviting readers to consider how, through Jesus, our humanity in all its variety and vulnerability has been transfigured and taken into the heart of the divine life. Being Human is a book that readers of all religious persuasions will find both challenging and highly rewarding. Questions at the end of each chapter encourage personal reflection or group discussion.
